Project Summary

Objectives

Our goal is to educate young people in the field of ecology, we want to show that being ecological is not only fashionable, but also useful and pleasant, young people will become aware of their choices and use the acquired skills in everyday life, sharing them with friends and loved ones. We take up the subject of a global problem to improve the quality of life, save the environment and counteract climate change.

Activities

The project involves the development of programs and materials for workshops, where young people will learn to:

- use recycled clothes,
 - how not to waste food,
 - how to make natural cosmetics
 - how to prepare ecological and safe "home chemistry" yourself
- and testing of these workshops by partners.

There will also be dissemination events and a festival in the form of expert presentations, stands and exhibitions of things created by the participants.

Impact

We will expand the group of ecology enthusiasts who care about the environment, e.g. by not wasting food, using used clothes, giving them a second life.

We will strengthen their soft skills, such as: communication, teamwork, creativity, openness and hard skills, e.g. the ability to use and create objects. We encourage youth to implement Eco Life Style

We will contribute to the development of society and its awareness of making decisions that will affect the future
